

IFAPA TRAINING

for foster, adoptive and kinship parents and workers

Decoding the Mystery of ADHD

What do Bill Gates, Michael Jordan and Steven Spielberg have in common? They all have ADHD. Often what can be seen as a detriment could also be channeled into an outlet to help a person succeed. This workshop will present and discuss the patterns of behavior that are characteristic of Attention Deficit Disorders in children and adolescents. The workshop will also provide specific behavioral strategies that parents can use to help their children achieve more success in school, in social interactions, and at home.

Approved for 3 Hours of Foster Parent Credit
